ONE KILLED IN WRECK

Freight Train Smash-Up on the Coast Line Between Jarrett's and Stony Creek.

PHILLIPS QUIET AS A LAMB

Dangerous Lunatic Recaptured and Returned Without Trouble. Weddings in Petersburg.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) ETERSBURG, VA., Jan. 20,-A freight wreck occurred this morning on the Atlantic Coast Line at Nottoway River, between Jarratt's and Stoney Creek, resulting in the death of a negro tramp who was stealing a ride, and painful injuries to Captain Jones. The scene of the accident is about twenty-five miles south of Petersburg, and further details of the accident is about twenty-five miles south of Petersburg, and further details are not to be secured now. Richard Phillips, the negro lunatic who made his escape yesterday from the Central State Hospital, was recaptured late last night in a saloon. His captors anticipated stubborn resistance, but he accompanied them back to the institution without trouble.

The Right Rev. A. M. Randolpi, D. D., will be in Petersburg Sunday night to administer the rite of confirmation at St. John's Episcopal Church.

WEDDING.

At the West End Methodist Church best night Miss Marietta Rawlings was murried to James Balley, the Rev. Fred G. Davis officiating. The attendants were Miss Mary Bishop and Waverly. Brach. The bride is a daughter of Mr. Harry Rawlings, of Petersburg, and the groom is a well known young man employed by Sommers and Company.

The Petersburg Y. M. C. A. has secured the Rev. W. R. L. Smith, of Richmond, to talk on "How to Become a Christian" at the Sunday service.

ANNUAL MEETING.

The Virginia Passenger and Power Company will meet in annual session in Petersburg Monday next, when the election of officers and matters of importance will be considered.

The trial of the young man giving his name as F. W. Wheeler, who was arrested in Richmond yesterday, will likely be held to-morrow. The charge preferred in Petersburg against the stranger is the theft of overcoats at the Imporial and Shirley Hotels and having jumped his board bill at the Central Hotel.

inc following address:

"Will Mr. Gorman receive the nomination for the presidency? This is the question that is on nearly every Democratic tongue in this section. The writer, while a native of dear old Virginia, has lived in the North and West during the last eight years. It is as a riend and as a warm supporter of Mr. Gorman that I send from this point a word of cheer to the many stallwart hearts in the South who are so manifestly for him. The other night at Wheeling we formed the Young Men's Gorman Club of West Virginia. While all of the members of this large club ato residents of West Virginia, its president is Mr. A. D. McKinney, who was born at Farmville, Va., a nephew of former Governor P. W. McKinney, of Virginia. Our vice-president and secretary came formerly from Ohio, and one of our ablest workers is from Pennsylvania.

of our ablest workers is from Pennsylvania.

"We maintain that the South's being for Mr. Gorman will not be against him in the convention when it meets in St. Louis in July, but on the other hand we argue that it will be in his favor. Is not this the day of steam and electricity? Are we not moving? So we call upon the thousands of our friends in the South who are for Mr. Gorman, to penetrate the North and West, and while we may not be able to demand, we can say to the brethron (who are always ready to receive us with a pleasant welcome) that for nearly a half century we have been humble, we have been patient, and we have kept the faith. We ask you to stand for a man who is both a friend and a statesman. So our cyes are turned towards the South for help, for we know that she is always loyal, and that she will battle for that perless leader of the Chesapeake as he battled for her in her hour of need. battled for her in her hour of need.

Farmers' Institute at Fredericksburg the Best Held.

burg the Best Held.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

FREDERICKSBURG, VA., Jan. 29.—
The farmers' institute held here resterday was probably the best that ever occurred in this State. Mr. J. H. C. Beverley presided, and the speakers were Hon. G. W. Kolner, State Commissioner of Agriculture; Messrs. W. B. Walte and J. W. Spillman, of the United States Agricultural Department at Washington, and Professor S. B. Hieges, of the State experimental farm, in Charlotte county. The subjects treated were, "Soil Improvement, Sweet Potato Culture, Diversified Farming and Poultry Raising." The atsubjects treated were, "Soil improvement, Sweet Potato Culture, Diversified Farming and Poultry Raising." The attendance was excellent. The counties of Spotsylvania, Caroline and Stafford and King George were largely represented by leading farmers, and some were present from other counties and more distant points. A number of business men of this city also attended the sessions.

Mrs. Sue M. Alsop, of Spotsylvania county, has sold her fine farm, about eight miles from this dity, containing as acres, to Mr. F. H. Wheatley, of Indiana, at a good price.

John Terrill, a well known and highly respected colored man, who ded this week at his home in Spotsylvania county, near this city, is said to have reached the advanced age of one hundred and five years at the time of his death.

The remains of Miss Fannie Berry, daughtor of Mr. W. T. Berry, of Stafford county, who died this week in Baltimore, of typhoid fover, aged ninsteen years, were brought to her native county for interment.

PRIMARY

The Subcommittee Again Take Up the Investigation Before a Crowded Room.

MR. GILLIAM SITS ALONE

The Matter to be Again Post poned After Two Days Until Latter Part of February.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) NORFOLK, VA., Jan. 29.-Judge Asa. Watkins and Hon, Robert Gilliam, two of the members of the subcommittee of the Democratic State Central Committee. arrived here this morning to resume the investigation of the frauds in the primary election of October. Hon, Lloyd T. Smith, the third member, was not resent.

The room in the Atlantic Hotel used for the hearing was as crowded as it has been heretofore with interested spectators, who heard with interesting amazement the testimony of men who were accepted as voters, and who on oath declare that their votes are not registered as they were cast in the primary election.

accepted as voters, and who on oath declare that their votes are not registered as they were cast in the primary election.

The time the voters appeared at the polls is asked of nearly all of the witnesses for tha purpose of establishing the fact that the tally sheets, as brought into court, do not show the order in which the witnesses voted, but show on the contrary that the tally sheets must have been revised and rewritten, so that they show the names of the witnesses in an order differing from that in which they voted.

INTELLIGENT WITNESSES.

There was an intelligent class of witnesses on the stand this morning, and the cross-questioning of the contestees was not so effective in exhibiting the lack of information of the details of the election as it has been heretofore. That line of cross-questioning seems to be intended for two purposes, namely, to occupy time, and to show that the witnesses, who were accepted as voters whose votes could be changed to suit the exigencies of the "good government" faction, are not credible as witnesses.

One feature which was prominent in the cestimony this morning was the number of witnesses who voted the Republican ticket, after having voted in the Democratic primary.

One witness said that at 12 o'clock on election day it was generally understood that the votes were not recorded honestly, and that the election was unfair, and that his vote and that of everybody else in the First Ward was not recorded correctly, and, therefore, he voted for Hughes and Spann, Republicans, in the general election.

A CLOUD OF THEM.

The tenor of the testimony is the same from all witnesses and there seems to be no limit to the number of witnesses who testify that their votes have been improperly recorded.

W. H. Jacques, of the Fourth Ward, was the star witness this morning. He testified that he was the eighth voter at the polls and voted for the candidates of the Took government faction.

B. C. Davidson and W. H. Harsrove testified that they were the first to vote the candidates of the good government faction.

8. C. Davidson and W. H. Hargrove testified that they were the first to vote in the primary in the Fourth Ward. The names of these two witnesses appear as the first two voters on the tally sheets, but the sheets contain only thirty-five names. Mr. Jacques's name, which, according to his testimony, ought to appear on these lists as the eighth voter, is missing.

poar on these lists at the departing missing.

A LONE MEMBER.

Judge Watkins of the committee went to Richmond this evening. Mr. Robert Gillam, therefore, sat alone at tonight's hearing. Mr. Gilliam said that after to-morrow's morning, afternoon and night sessions the committee will leave here and the hearing will not be resumed until some time during the latter part of February.

WESTMORELAND COURT.

Resolutions in Honor of Judge Beale-Two Indictments.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) MONTROSS, VA., Jan. 29.-Westmoreland County Court was held here Mon day, and a large crowd of citizens turned cut to witness the closing term of this time-honored institution. There was very little business before the court. A special
